Eve is sitting on a park bench, near a large tree, and looks around with curiosity, appreciating the wind that shakes the leaves and the atmosphere that surrounds her.

A group of six teenagers arrive running into the park, passing from behind the bench and leaving some backpacks under the tree.

The teenagers have come out of the school, which is located behind the park, are on their lunch break, and start playing in front of Eve.

In the group there is a girl A who, running,

falls

gets up and stands still to recover, touching her knee that has peeled when she fell.

Then girl A looks up and meets Eve's gaze, both of them suspended for a moment.

Picture

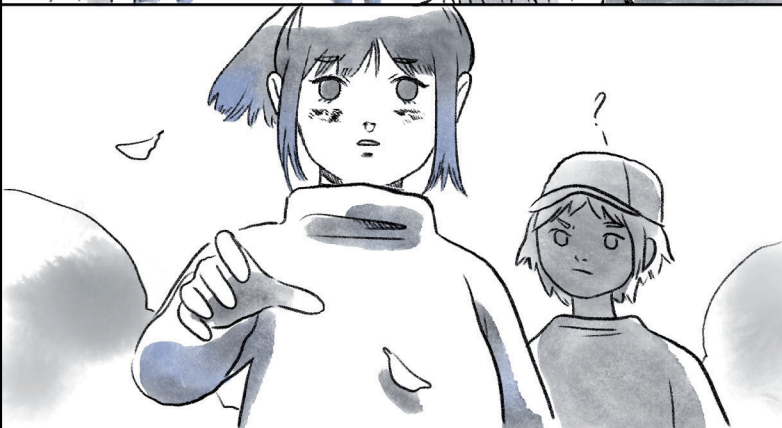

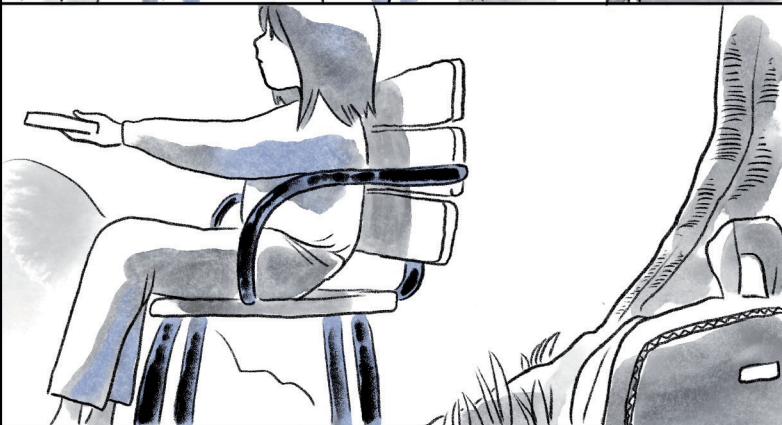

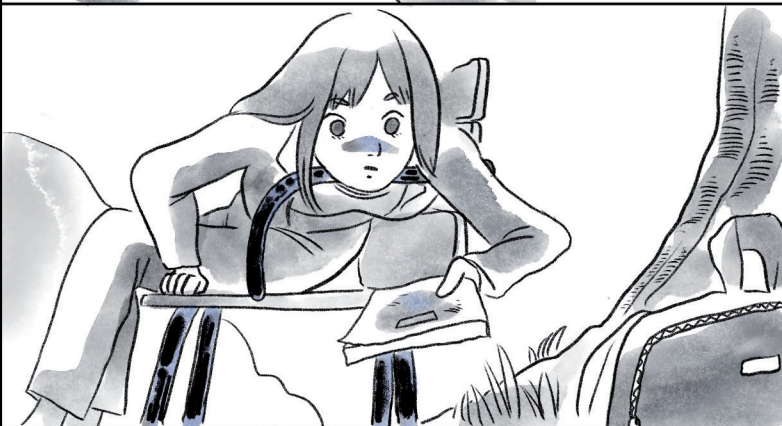

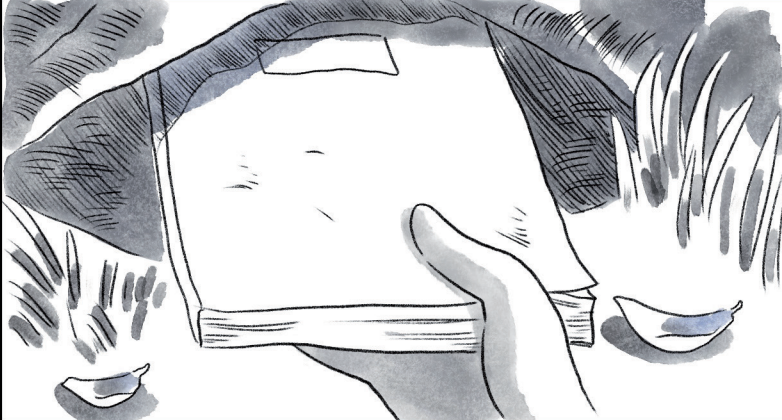

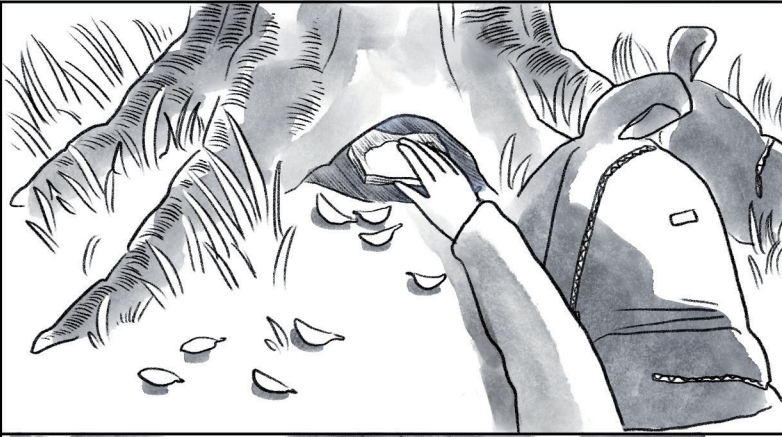

Action

Girl A initiates a dialogue of gestures, using hands and arms, with Eve, Eve sees what Girl A is looking at, and discovers the diary herself.

She offers to grab it for her to give it to her,

the "group" gets a bit aggressive, and basically starts making fun of her,

Girl A turns away not because she loses interest in her diary, but because she doesn't want them to find out that this is her secret hiding place.

So that gives Eve time to "eavesdrop" and read the diary, while Girl A's attention is being occupied.

The moment Eve opens the diary, a girl's voice (which is the voice off of girl A herself) is heard telling an episode of her life from her diary.

Eve holds the diary open in her hands until boy B comes running and takes it from her. So the voice off is cut.

Boy B passes the diary to the other companions while everyone is playing pass it without Girl A taking it, boy B returns to Eve takes her hands and makes her stand up.

Boy B takes four steps back, holding Eve by the hands

He then makes her lift both of her arms,

spreading them out to either side of her

Picture

Boy B walks off to get closer to the group and another boy C arrives immediately and faces Eve, waving his arms sideways, inviting Eve to imitate him

A girl D places herself on Eve's right side, in contact with her right arm and guides her gaze to a couple of teenagers, pointing with her hand.

Then the same girl D, in a playful way, puts herself on Eve's left side, in contact with her left arm, takes her shoulder embracing her from behind, makes her do a quarter turn to the right and takes her step by step close to the couple of teenagers.

The group of teenagers approaches Eve and spins around her in an irregular manner, the teenagers are everywhere around her, passing the diary as if it were a ball, while girl A remains aloof.

In the background, girl A goes to retrieve the backpack near the tree

The diary falls to the ground right in front of Eve, girl A runs to get it, picks it up and cleans it, holding it close to her chest.

At that moment, girl A has her backpack and diary in her hand, and looks up at Eve.

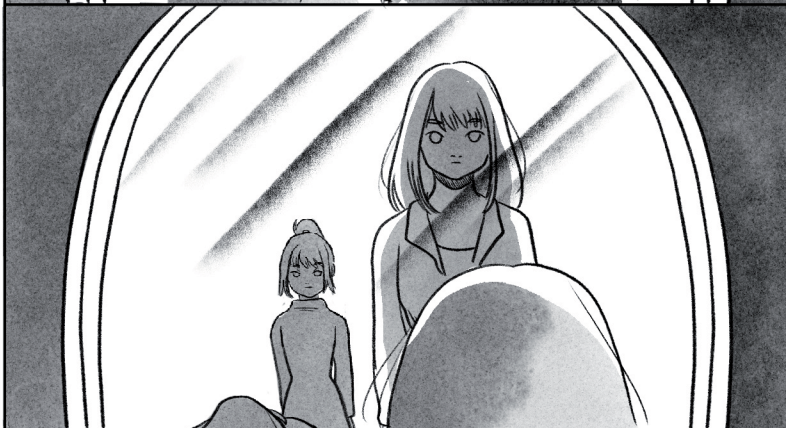

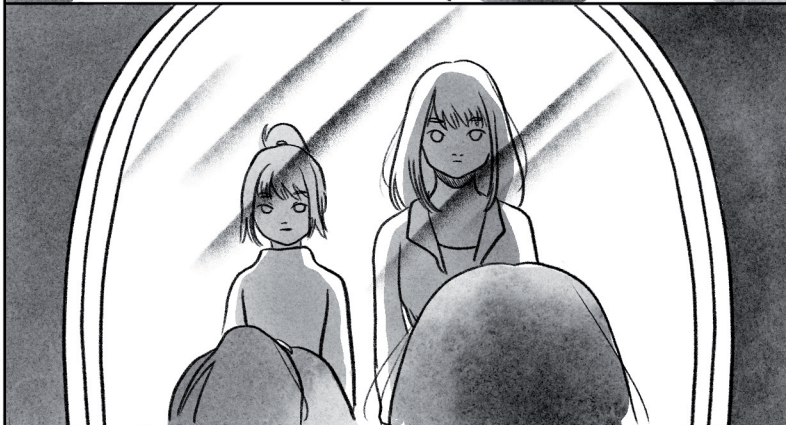

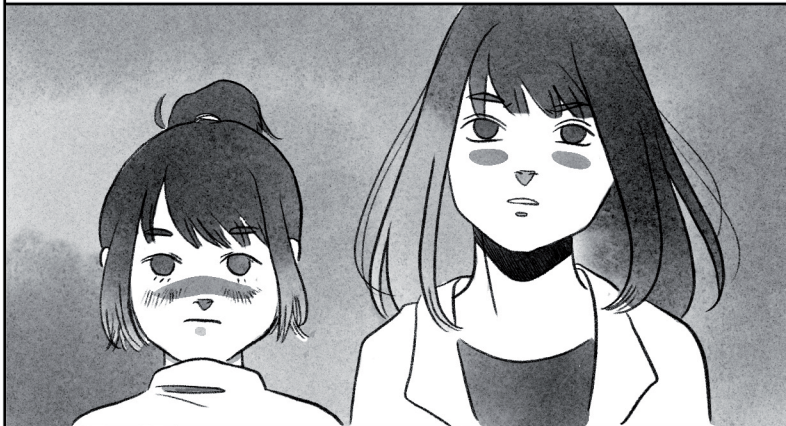

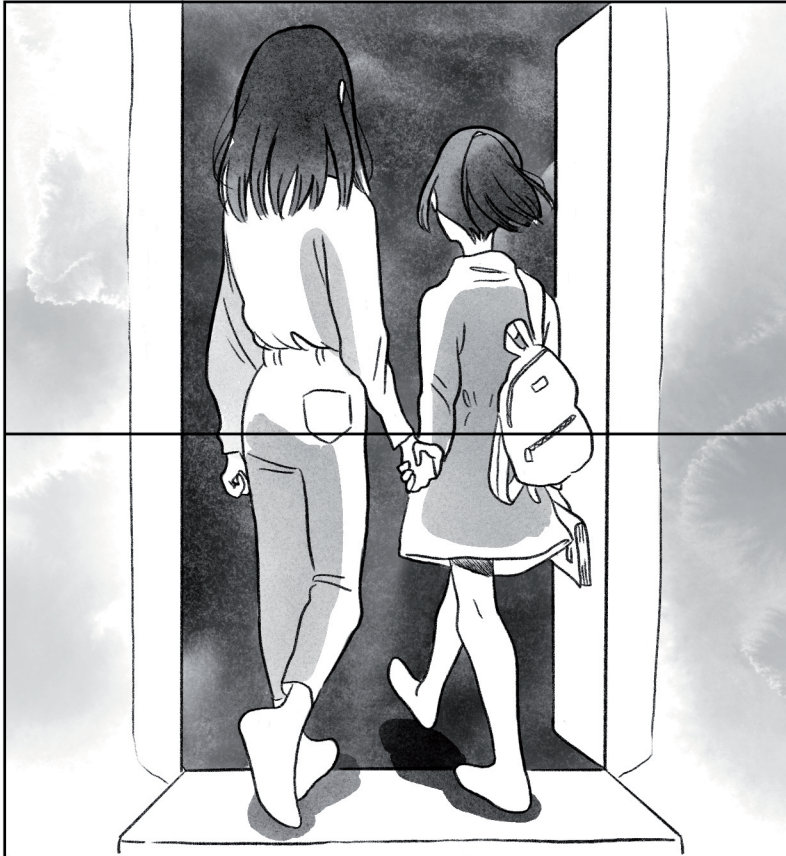

After a moment of pause,

makes her do a quarter of turn, and leads her along a straight path to the opposite end of the park

Girl A leads Eve to the door of her house, which is open

The two continue to walk side by side hand in hand and, beyond the door, they find themselves in front of a large mirror.

Girl A releases Eve's hand and backs off a few paces until she disappears behind her.
